Article Title

In vitro anti-inflammatory resorcinol derivatives and their in silico analysis

Abstract

Resorcinol with its two hydroxyl groups was derivatized in laboratory to observe the anti-inflammatory potential in vitro. Subsequently, in silico docking analysis was done for observing the binding modes in cyclooxygenase enzyme to have idea about the subsequent possible developments. At the doses of 200 mg/mL and 400 mg/mL, the compounds showed the anti-inflammatory property. Among them, 1,3-phenylene bis(2-chloro-4-nitrobenzoate) also offered dose dependent 51% and 70% of inhibition of heat-induced hemolysis respectively. The scaffold thus poses as an interesting pharmacophore suitable for further development for managing the inflammatory disorders.

Reviewer Guidelines

Review reports

In evaluating a manuscript, reviewers should focus on the following:

- Originality
- Contribution to the field
- Technical quality
- Clarity of presentation
- Depth of research

Reviewers should also:

- Observe that the author(s) have followed the instruction for authors, editorial policies and publication ethics.
- Observe that the appropriate journal's reporting guidelines is followed

The report should be accurate, objective, constructive and unambiguous. Comments should be backed by facts and constructive arguments with regards to the content of the manuscript. Reviewers should avoid using "hostile, derogatory and accusatory comments" PIE.

Reviewers should not rewrite the manuscript; however necessary corrections and suggestions for improvements should be made.

Timeliness

Reviewers should only accept manuscript that they are confident that they can dedicate appropriate time in reviewing. Thus, reviewers should review and return manuscripts in a timely manner.

Recommendation

Reviewers' recommendation should be either:

- Accept
- Requires minor corrections
- Requires moderate revision
- Requires major revision
- Not suitable for the journal. Submit to another publication such as (suggest a journal):
- Reject

Recommendation should be backed with constructive arguments and facts based on the content of the manuscript.
