Dear Dr. Thanh Dien Tran,

Congratulations, your CTU Journal of Innovation and Sustainable Development has been accepted for Scopus.

The Scopus Content Selection & Advisory Board (CSAB) has reviewed your application and approved it for coverage.

For your information, the reviewer comments are copied below:

This journal meets the criteria for Scopus inclusion. Its editorial board/team composition as well as author contributions are globally inclusive. Its content is well aligned to its purpose and scope. The content is very professionally presented. The average manuscript turnaround time (210 days) and average manuscript acceptance rate (24% in 2024) together with an indication in each published article of dates received, revised and accepted, are indicators of rigor of peer review and quality management  of published content. The articles are research-based, well grounded in literature and consistently referenced. The journal's citation performance is encouraging. It enjoys good editor standing.

Other observations:
The journal includes articles that are academically sound and relevant to an international academic or professional audience in the field.
The journal has scholarly relevance as evidenced by citations in other journals currently covered by Scopus.
The abstracts are in keeping with Scopus English Language requirements.
In general, the content of the articles is consistent with the scope and aims of the journal.

What's Next?

If Scopus already has a license agreement in place with your organization for content access or your title has a CC-BY license, no further action is needed from your end at this point.
If we do not have a license agreement in place, and you are the journal editor or publisher, your Publishing Relations Manager will reach out to you within 4 weeks to discuss next steps on the content access set-up. Your Publisher Relations Manager's role is to guide your through the Scopus onboarding process and ensure that everything runs smoothly. You can learn more about the onboarding process in the Scopus Content Provider FAQ and a specific timeline can be found here: Onboarding timeline
Practical information for journal editors can be found in our Role of an editor FAQ.

In general, all recently accepted titles will be listed separately in the Scopus Title list within 1 month after acceptance, see the second tab 'Accepted titles'. If you can't find your title there, please check the tab 'Scopus sources'.

Sincerely,

Scopus Title Evaluation Team
